FormsAssistant

Take control of your forms and boilerplate documents with FormsAssistant for Microsoft Word.
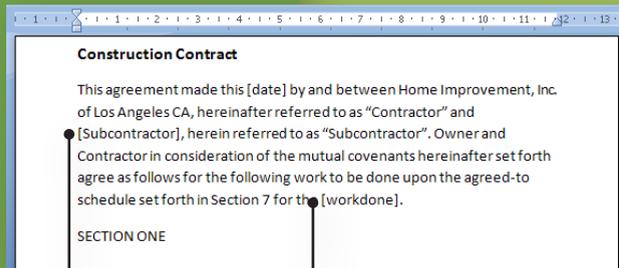

Reuse, not retype.

If a part of your job is filling in standard forms, templates and Word documents, FormsAssistant can save you hours each week by reusing instead of retyping the work you've already done.
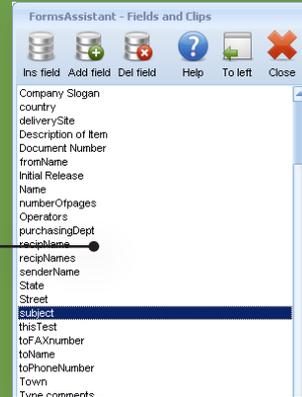

Forms that work they way they should.

For decades, Microsoft Word has had essentially the same form letter functionality - confusing, hard to use, limited. FormsAssistant let's you turn any Word document into a reusable template faster than you can type [client name] [address1] [managername].

Build a Clips library.

There's more to creating custom documents than inserting names and addresses: you'll want and replace entire paragraphs and sections, quickly and accurately. With FormsAssistant's Clips, you can pick and choose which variation of a section of template you want to insert, and merge it seamlessly with your document

Create your clip categories and paste clips into your document with a single click.

Access FormsAssistant from Word using the integrated ribbon bar pane.

Fields can be typed directly inside the document

An easy, no-surprises install.

If you've ever used an Office Addin, you know installing (or uninstalling) a new Addin can be hassle. Like all of of Momsoft's products, FormsAssistant works with every version of Windows and Office released in the past decade, doublechecks it's own install and let's you access short introductory videos with one click.
